Issue n. 1 | MARCH 2025

Dr. Fatima Al Breiki

Acting Director of UAE University Libraries

So many times, we have met strangers on the pages of a book, only to feel sense of cordiality with them for spending good time with them following their stories and narratives when our eyes dart back and forth from one page to another.

So often we have wandered through library aisles, searching for a specific title, only to discover after hours of search, that we have strayed from our intended search that we have strayed from our intended goal, and so we return to recalibrate our sense of direction once again.

Nonetheless, the vast worlds of the library are not only books, but there are many other services, activities, events, and places that are attractive for studying, writing, research, creativity, and for holding meetings and encounters. This is what the Library Bulletin will be keen to introduce, to be a window to get to know the library in all its bright aspects. So, welcome everyone in the first Bulletin of UAE University Libraries.

More than 70% of the manuscripts have been successfully published in peer reviewed journals and around 25% of the edited manuscripts are in the process to be published.

The UAEU Libraries also provides similarity check reports by iThenticate. More than 12,000 manuscripts have been screened for plagiarism check.

The UAE University Manuscript Editing Service continues to support the UAE University publishing output for 2025. Faculty and staff still have their manuscripts edited, proofread and checked for free before final submission for publication to peer-reviewed journals. We encourage all faculty, staff and graduate students to make use of the services. Just send an email to the coordinator or visit the Library webpage - Services - Editing Services.
