

Graduate Research Scholarships and Fellowships Program

The purpose of the Graduate Research Scholarships and Fellowships program is to make available financial support packages to faculty researchers that would enable them to recruit and support highly-talented, research-oriented graduate students who will engage in active research in areas of strategic importance to the University and the nation.

GRADUATE RESEARCH SCHOLARSHIPS

A. AWARD BENEFITS

a) Graduate Research Scholarships are granted to eligible students and provide a full package of benefits, which includes full tuition waiver, monthly stipend, housing or housing allowance, health insurance and research support.

b) The housing benefit is provided to UAE national students if they reside outside the Al Ain vicinity, and to international students if their visa is sponsored by UAEU.

c) Health insurance is provided to UAE national students if needed, and to international students if their visa is sponsored by UAEU.

d) Research support funds are provided to the faculty for supporting the students research.

e) Award recipients who take official leave of absence from their study will have their stipend payments and any applicable housing allowance suspended for the duration of the leave period, and the period of their Scholarship award will be extended accordingly.
