Abstract:

The research includes the Legal regulation of the E-Arbitration Agreement in the UAE on account of the current upturn in scientific and technical progress of the electronic means increase use of conclusion of different contracts, and its execution specially in the electronic contracts. As a result of all of those contracts it came out with electronic disputes that caused the necessity of searching for a specific solution that conform to its electronic privacy, as a result of this, a new alternative means come into sight to solve the electronic disputes and the most important one is the Electronic Arbitration; which requires legislations and regulations on Electronic Arbitration aspects that abide and satisfy its privacy.

It had been figured out the unavailability of rules and regulations specialized in Electronic Arbitration, although the country interest in the electronic transaction and its enactment of federal law comprises of basic regulations governing these transactions, which is the Federal Law No. (1) of 2006 on Electronic Commerce and Transactions, on the other hand it evokes wondering about which regulations govern the electronic arbitration in case it approved as one of dispute resolution means.

Herein is the essence of the research on the legal aspects of the Electronic Arbitration, which is considered to be one of the basic arbitration whereas the rules that governs the basic arbitration is one of the public rules of the arbitration phases. Arbitration centers contributed in promulgating in the arbitration law, which considered to be a part from the legal system. In consideration with all the above mentioned, it is necessary to have legal system especially for the Electronic Arbitration that adequate to its privacy to promote the electronic transaction.
