

UAEU professor looks at cultural struggles experienced by social workers

As a black African British academic, and social worker, Dr Prospera Tedam used her background to research struggles experienced by social workers in the United Kingdom when working with people from different culture and ethnic backgrounds

Published on June 30
2019

