UAE spend on diabetes care falls well short of US and UK, study shows

The UAE is lagging behind the rest of the world in its diabetes care, despite having the highest rates of internationally accredited hospitals in the world, according to a UN-backed report.

Figures are published in a comprehensive dossier on the state of the nation conducted by the UAE University Center for Public Policy and Leadership, in collaboration with the United Nations Development Programme.

Mandatory health insurance essential for national development, finds UAE University report

The United Arab Emirates has achieved quantifiable progress in healthcare, education and economic growth but there is disparity between emirates, says the latest UAE Human Development Report. "The distinction of Dubai and Abu Dhabi with great achievements in areas of education, health care, and income in comparison with the other Emirates in the UAE is obvious," says the report by UAE University.
